

ALL WARNED TO FLEE

PRESIDENT WILSON REQUESTS AMERICANS NOW IN MEXICO TO LEAVE AT ONCE.

GAMBOA SENDS NEW NOTE

Secretary Bryan Reports That Situation is Encouraging—Officials of Southern Republic Told Not to Harm U. S. Citizens.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson on Wednesday warned all Americans to leave Mexico at once. At the same time the American embassy and all consular representatives throughout the southern republics were instructed "to notify all officials, civil and military, in Mexico that they would be held strictly responsible for harm or injury done to Americans or their property."

Secretary Bryan dispatched long telegrams to the embassy and all consular representatives quoting extracts from the president's address to congress, in which he reviewed the futile peace negotiations with the Huerta government and the policy the United States would pursue hereafter toward Mexico.

In these messages the consuls were instructed to render every aid possible to departing Americans, furnishing transportation and any other pecuniary assistance to the needy. They were informed that a sufficient number of ships would be provided to carry away those in the seacoast towns.

Foreign governments will be notified of the action of the United States, so that they may give similar advice, but the American consuls will help all foreigners in any emergency.

Within a day or two, an announcement is expected of the mobilization of a large number of American troops along the southern frontier to enforce neutrality in the traffic of arms and munitions of war.

First results of the president's optimism were apparent when Secretary Bryan announced the receipt of a message from John Lind, now at Vera Cruz, stating that Senor Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, had sent a new note. Secretary Bryan described the situation as "encouraging" and commented on the fact that he had for several days used the word "unchanged." Mr. Bryan added that the Gamboa note was in reply to the supplementary suggestions made by Mr. Lind before leaving Mexico City for Vera Cruz.

The president was informed of the late developments, but offered no comment. He was particularly pleased with his reception in Congress. Not only from the applause that greeted him as he began his address and at its conclusion, but through personal congratulations, President Wilson felt assured that he had behind him the undivided support of congress, irrespective of political party.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Aug. 29.—Mexico of its own accord will accept the good offices of President Wilson in settling its internal troubles, according to a message received by John Lind from the government of Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Lind will return to the Mexican capital Friday. Mr. Lind's first work there will be to get leaders of all factions together to name candidates.

THAW WINS THREE BATTLES

Fugitive in Jail After Victory Over State of New York—Saved From Deportation.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 29.—Harry K. Thaw won three victories over the New York state authorities on Wednesday and was locked in the Sherbrooke jail, immune for the time being from the Dominion immigration authorities, after having received an ovation from the townspeople of Sherbrooke that would have done honor to a prince of royal blood.

The three points in which Thaw's lawyers were successful in their first legal skirmish were:

1. New York state was denied the right to be party to the proceedings in court.

2. Counsel for the state failed in their efforts to have Thaw arraigned before a magistrate and the commitment on which he is held quashed.

3. Judge Globensky granted the plea of Thaw's counsel for a discontinuance of the writ of habeas corpus which might have brought about his release. This remedied a strategic blunder made last week by Thaw's attorneys, who apparently did not realize that in seeking their client's release they were playing into the opposition's hands.

BANKERS WIN POINT

SENATE GETS OPINION ON THE CURRENCY BILL.

Senator Owen Sees Merit in Plan to Reduce the Quality of Bank Reserves.

Washington, Aug. 26.—In answer to the criticism of the currency bill made by the conference of bankers at Chicago, the administration's forces in the house will tighten up the lines and a more vigorous indorsement of the currency bill as it now stands will be the result.

Informal conferences of Democratic members of the house currency committee emphasized the fact that the active supporters of the president's currency plan expect to pass the measure through the house without substantial changes.

The proposal to reduce the quantity of reserves and give country banks the privilege of keeping part of their reserves in the large cities had many supporters, and ultimately may be worked into the bill in the senate, but the change is not expected in the house.

The bankers will have an opportunity to present their views openly to congress after the currency bill gets into the senate. Chairman Owen of the senate currency committee said that while hearings had not yet been arranged he expected leading representatives of the various "factions" among the bankers of the country would be invited to give their views of the bill to the senate committee.

"I see a great deal of merit in the proposal to reduce somewhat the quantity of the reserves," said Senator Owen.

NEW TARIFF LAW BY SEPT. 16

Simmons Predicts Bill Will Have President's Signature by That Date.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee on Sunday predicted the senate would complete the tariff bill and pass it by September 5, and that the measure could be finished by the conference committee and signed by President Wilson by September 16. Only unforeseen delay in debate will prevent the tariff bill from becoming a law by that time, in the opinion of Senator Simmons.

The indictment of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, Aaron J. Levy, leader of the Democratic majority in the assembly, and James Frawley, chairman of the committee which investigated Governor Sulzer's campaign contributions, has been requested by the district attorneys of New York and Albany counties by Judge Lynn J. Arnold of Albany, an ardent Sulzer supporter.

A possible breach in the ranks of Governor Sulzer's supporters was indicated by the statement of former Judge D. Cady Herrick, who leads the governor's legal forces in the impeachment matter, that "counsel for Governor Sulzer have nothing to do with any alleged criminal proceedings against Charles F. Murphy, Senator Frawley or Assemblyman Levy and are not pursuing any investigation of a criminal character against anyone."

INDUSTRY

TO MARK FINISHED CEMENT

Stampers Move Up and Down Like Plunger on Its Axis—Tool is Moved About by Handle.

A stamping tool for marking finished cement has been invented by a California man. An axis rests on an end plate with a supporting face. Journaled on the axis is a revolvable support that carries a marker which extends to the bottom of the supporting plate. The whole tool can be moved by means of a handle on the axis. A pair of strong springs are set in above the plunger apparatus so that when the stamper has been extended downward it is automatically jerked up again. This implement is said to be not only much quicker of operation than the method of finishing cement entirely by hand work, but is also more accurate than the more primitive performance. It is possible to tilt the marking tool on the rod as well as have it at right angles.

FORMATION OF NATURAL COAL

German Scientist Estimates Time Necessary at 8,000,000 Years—Making Artificial Product.

At the annual meeting of the Association of German chemists, Dr. Bergius of Hanover, read a paper on his experiments on the manufacture of artificial coal. He heated cellulose, or peat, with water to a temperature of 340 degrees centigrade, and at a pressure of over 100 atmospheres. In a specially constructed apparatus. Both these substances were transformed into a product physically and chemically identical with coal. At a temperature of 310 degrees centigrade the process took sixty hours, and at 340 degrees centigrade the transformation took place in eight hours. The speed of the reaction is doubled with every additional 10 degrees centigrade of temperature. Dr. Bergius estimates on this basis that the time necessary for the formation of natural coal, at the temperature of the earth's crust, is 8,000,000 years, figures which are approximately the same as those given by geology.

GROWTH OF ALUMINUM'S USE

Many Private Corporations Induced to Expend Large Sums of Money in Developing Mines.

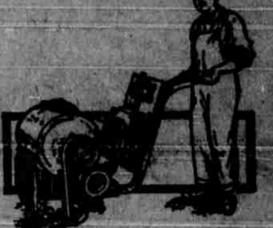

A notable increase in the use of aluminum during the last year in the United States, due to the many new uses to which the metal is put, is stimulating private corporations to expend large sums of money in developing bauxite ore mines in New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Tennessee and other states, according to a report by the United States geological survey. More than 65,000,000 pounds of aluminum were consumed during 1912, as compared with 46,125,000 pounds consumed during the year 1911. The domestic development of bauxite ore, from which aluminum is derived, during 1912 was valued at $786,932, as compared with a much smaller amount during the preceding year, but even this increase failed to satisfy the demand and left open a great margin for imported bauxite and aluminum. The imports of the ore and the finished metal were record breaking during 1912.

The manufacture of new aluminum products includes long-distance power transmission wires, household ware and cooking utensils, powdered metal for paint pigment, lithographing and manufacture of explosives. Aluminum foil for wrapping tobacco and candy is rapidly replacing tinfoil as a because of its non-corrosive qualities aluminum metal is being used in the construction of tanks, boilers, pressure vessels used in breweries, pressure manufacturing and similar industries where heat conduction and non-corrosion are essential.
